NOW is the time to "Do Your Christmas Shopping Early." It won't be really early after this. Save yourself, time, worry, annoyance. Show consideration for overworked employes and get now what you cannot get later the first choice of al that the stores have to offer.

This means women especially, they are considerate.

Living up to the prediction made in this column when cotton was selling around tweny-six cents, the price yesterday went above thirty-five cents. "All months" touching new high prices. However don't gamble.

The Methodist Episcopal Board of Public Morals has things to say about the stage in New York. Young ladies, it seems, many at a time, "troop down to the footlights naked from the waist up, and practically naked from the waist down-don't call it nude, just plain naked," so say the board.

Much seems to depend on what people are doing, and why, and where In ancient Greece young girls ran in the races entirely naked without hurting anybody's morals. Their intentions were good. That makes all the difference.

Many things on the stage are both immoral, unintentionally stupid, but never the less very stupid. Women, as now prescribed to the public, are about as interesting as so many "sides" of dressed beef hung in a butcher shop. Managers ought to know that.

Young ladies of Chicago's "Co-ed" University decide that "all men are talkers" and are all dull. Some, with dullness, combine seriousness, others froth, others triviality but all are dull.

Nothing new in that truthful statement. The miracle is that women have endured men's dullness, pretending to be interested in their conversation for so many centuries, from dull modern man back to Adam. He must have had nothing at all to say, being so freshly made and having no gossip to bring home to his wife. You do not wonder that, in the despair of boredom, she talked to the snake.

George Baker, one of the country's four richest men—Mellon, Rockefeller and Ford are the other three comes from Europe cheerful saying: "We are going to have prosperity here and Europe's troubles can't prevent it."

Abopt getting our debts from Europe he quotes as saying:

"You can't press blood out of a turnip." That probably describes our chances of getting the chests of money we lent to Europe. Nobody will mourn over that if we will attend to our own business from now on.

A few years ago even Henry Ford wouldn't have thought this possible. He will talk, through the air, from his WWI station at Dearborn, using his 360 metre wave across a thousand miles of this continent, three thousand miles of the Atlantic ocean, to men and women "listening in" in England.

That miracle would have astounded those living when the Old Testament was written.

Let's hope that in a few thousand years, with every human being able to talk at will with any other on earth, men will decide to stop murdering each other, and follow Joseph Pulitzer's advice, "Don't fight, advertise."

In New York's Madison Square Garden on Tuesday night thousands of white men and women yelled, cursed, and enjoyed themselves while two negroes, Siki and Norfolk, fought, their faces and chests streaming with blood.

Five hundred years hence, when historians ask what civilization was in the biggest city in the biggest country of the world, in 1923, that picture of two bleeding negroes, delighting the souls of five thousand white men and women, will answer them.

GENERAL COUNTY TAX FOR 1924 TO BE SAME AS '23

TAXES AND SOME COUNTY SPECIAL TAXES REDUCED CAUSING $14,000 REDUCTION IN TOTAL TAXES

Tax payers of Wood County will feel little reduction in the amount of taxes to paid in 1924 over their 1923 taxes. This was ascertained today at the meeting of the county board when the finance committee report was adopted calling for an appropriation of $524,583.99 which includes the general state tax and a special state tax for support of charitable and penal institutions and the county budget of general taxes. For 1923 the amount of $538,883.68 was raised by the county for the county budget, general and special state taxes. By comparison there is found reduction slightly over $14,000 to the taxpayers of the county, which when spread over the entire taxable property of the county will not show an appreciable reduction. Because the general county tax of $456,768.30 is within a few dollars of the amount raised for 1923.

What the Taxes Pay

Below is a table taken from the report of the Finance committee of the county board showing for what purposes the taxes were raised:

$55,850.16 State Taxes.
$11,965.53 Special charges against County for Charitable and Penal Institutions.
$10,000.00 County Board.
$4,000.00 County Clerk.
$4,000.00 County Treasurer.
$300.00 County Assessment.
$3,350.00 Interest Asylum Bonds.
$10,000.00 Principal Asylum Bonds.
$3,000.00 District Attorney.
$10,000.00 County Court.
$10,000.00 Circuit, Municipal, and Judicial Courts.
$10,000.00 County Buildings.
$2,000.00 Elections.
$10,000.00 Sheriff.
$1,000.00 Soldiers' Relief.
$3,000.00 Bounties.
$1,500.00 Vital Statistics.
$5,000.00 Training School.
$5,000.00 Agricultural School.
$3,000.00 Agricultural Agent.
$1,000.00 Poor Farm.
$2,500.00 Blind Relief.
$4,000.00 County and State Fair.
$3,000.00 County Nurse.
$75,000.00 Interest County Board Bonds.
$37,374.72 1923 Deficits State Roads and Buildings.
$195,000.00 County Board appropriation Concrete Roads for 1924.
$43,743.58 All other purposes.
$524,583.99 Total.

In addition to the sum of general and special state and general county taxes listed above there are three other times which are $4,500 special charges levied against all the towns villages and cities of the county except the cities of Wisconsin Rapids and Marshfield and $31,352.91 special highway tax for bridges including county aid bridges except the village of Auburndale and Marshfield and a levy on the entire county of $46,536.90 for the county school tax, making a grand total of $82,389.81 which together with the amount above makes total of $539,158.11. The total of all for last year was $585,883.68.

Bean, Schimmelpfenig and Smith on Ag. Committee

A. P. Bean, Vesper with the highest number of votes, George Smith town of Cary, second highest, and W. J. Schimmelpfenig, city of Marshfild, third were elected by a vote of the county board as members of the county agricultural committee. They were elected out of a field of six, consisting of themselves and F. D. Abel, Wisconsin Rapids, Harry Thomas, Sherry, and F. W. Jones, town of Seneca. Their duties have much to do with the county and state fair ex-hibits and with all agricultural work in the county.

Blinding Headlights Cost Life of 15 Year Old Girl

(By Associated Press)

Janesville, Wis., Nov. 22—Blinding lights on an automobile so disconcerted six young girls walking on highway 26 from high school at Watertown to the Otto Klasch home near there that they failed to get off the road and Magdeline Klasch, 15, is dead, and Gertrude Jaeger, 17, is in the Watertown hospital with a broken leg.

To Circulate Petition For Vote On Ceasing Road Work

Shortly after the adjournment of the County Board today, J. C. Kieffer, supervisor from Auburndale town and A. P. Bean, supervisor for town of Hansen, announced jointly in an interview with the Tribune that there would be circulated a petition among the voters of the county asking for the cessation, during the years 1925 and 1926, of concrete highway construction by the county. The petition will further ask that the proposal be voted on by referendum next spring at the annual election. Both Mr. Kieffer and Mr. Bean stated that they would not personally circulate the petitions but that there were dozens of people in every town in the county who would circulate them. They stated that under the law they would not be permitted to circulate petitions because of their membership on the county board although they declare they will support the petitions in every respect.

Circulate Dec. 10

Mr. Kieffer stated that he and Mr. Bean had consulted competent legal advisors and had learned of the manner in which the proposition may be put to the vote of the people. According to Mr. Kieffer, there will be necessary signatures of fifteen per cent of the number of voters who in this county at the last election cast their vote for the office of governor. The number is estimated to be 1500 signatures. "If that number is received," Mr. Kieffer said, "it shall be put upon the ballot and the people will have an opportunity to express their views whether or not there shall be any more concrete road building program during 1925 and 1926."

Very Dissatisfied

When questioned regarding the proposed referendum on the two year concrete road holiday, Mr. Kieffer said: "Both Mr. Bean and myself have been active for two or more years to prevent the huge road appropriations from passing the county board and each year we have lost the fight for the people. We know that we represent the views of a great majority of the people and we intend to use this legitimate method of preventing any more road construction during 1925 and 1926."

Stringent Dance Ordinance Adopted By County Board

CHILDREN BARRED AND MIDNIGHT CLOSING MADE OBLIGATORY; INSPECTION SYSTEM INSTITUTED

A stringent ordinance for the licensing and inspection of all public dances in Wood county, and forbidding the attendance at such dances of children under 16 years of age unless accompanied by a parent or legal guardian, was adopted by the county board of supervisors yesterday afternoon by a vote of 28 to 12, with two members of the board not voting and one absent. The ordinance, which was drawn for the counties of the state by the attorney general's office, was introduced by Supervisor Reuben Connor of the village of Auburndale.

Rules Governing Dances

The rules and regulations governing the conduct of public dances are included in section eight of the ordinance, in the following subsections:

"a. At no public dance shall the presence of any person under sixteen years of age be permitted unless such person is accompanied by parent or legal guardian.

"b. Public dances shall be discontinued, and public dance halls closed for the night on or before twelve o'clock midnight, excepting New Year's Eve, when they may remain open until twelve-thirty o'cloen. No public dances shall be conducted between such closing hour and 8 o'clock a. m. The dance hall inspection committee may, upon written application, by special permit in writing given over the signatures of at least two members thereof, relieve any licensee from the provisions of this rule, but each such permit shall except one dance only and shall be issued not more than ten days prior to the holding of such dance.

"c. No pass-out checks permitting any person to leave and reenter a public dance hall during a public dance shall be issued.

"d. The possession, drinking or offering to another person of intoxicating liquors shall not be permitted, either in a public dance hall or on the premises on which it is situated.

"e. The participation in a public dance of persons under the influence of liquor or drugs shall not be permitted.

"f. Idlers or loiterers shall not be permitted to remain either in a public dance hall or on the premises on which it is situated.

"g. All dances held in the night time shall be kept well and sufficiently lighted at all times."

Halls Must Be Licensed

The ordinance provides that all public dance halls must be licensed, licenses to be issued upon the payment of a $10 fee by a majority vote of the county board or by the chairman of the board subject to its approval when it meets. Permits for each dance must be obtained from the county clerk, and a $3 inspection fee must be paid for each permit.

The enforcement of the ordinance is placed in the hands of a special committee of the county board, to which Chairman Chapman appointed R. J. Straus of Marshfield, chairman, Reuben Connor of Auburndale and L. C. Kellogg of Nekoosa. This committee will meet at the court house Monday to select dance inspectors for each township in the county. These inspectors will be notified by the county clerk when a permit for a dance has been obtained, and will be required to attend such dances and see that the law is observed and those in attendance conduct themselves properly. Inspectors have the power to order any dance hall closed immediately, and are required to file a written report of each dance with the county clerk.

Violations of the ordinance will be punished by the revocation of license and by fine of from $25 to $1,000 or imprisonment from 30 days in the county jail to one year in state prison.

Need Drinks License

Under the ordinance any establishment at which drinks of any kind are sold in connection with a dance must have a license to sell non-intoxicating beverages, thus making it liable to search without a warrant under the provisions of the Severson prohibition enforcement act.

The ordinance will be published in the Daily Tribune on Saturday, and will go into effect on December 15.

Big Majority Kills Bill Regulating Parking Rights

By a big majority the county board members killed a resolution which would make the parking of an automobile within 12 feet of the center of a concrete highway a criminal offense, punishable by a fine of not less than $10 or more than $10 or a thirty day jail sentence in default of payment. The resolution met with an overwhelming defeat.

Cutler, Wis., Nov. 22—Nine head of cattle, three horses, seven hogs, and a large number of chickens were burned to death when fire destroyed the barn of Chris Hengel, near Cutler. The cause of the fire is not known.

DULUTH MAN IS VICTIM OF SHOT BY 3-YEAR CHILD

BANKER DIES INSTANTLY FOLLOWING TRAGIC ACCIDENT AT HOME: WAS CLEANING RIFLE

(By Associated Press)

Duluth, Minn., Nov. 22.—Accidentally shot with his own rifle, Walter C. Harris, 40, teller of the American Exchange bank, was killed at 8:15 Wednesday at his home. Statements were made that the shot that ended his life was fired by his 3-year-old daughter, Jane.

Mr. Harris had taken the rifle into the kitchen to clean it and Mrs. Harris and two daughters, Jane and Betty, 6, were in an adjoining room from the kitchen when Mr. Harris called to his youngest daughter.

The two girls went in to their father when suddenly Mrs. Harris, who was sewing, heard a shot and Betty ran into her mother with blood on her dress and cried, "Daddy is shot, mother." Terrified Mrs. Harris ran to the door and then called for a doctor. Harry Gardener, a neighbor, heard the shots and Mrs. Harris' call for help and entered the house. He found Harris lying on the floor a bullet in his left brest which passed through the body and lodged in the wall of the kitchen.

PORTAGE COUNTY OFFERED $50,000

STATE HIGHWAY COMMISSION MAKES OFFER TO INDUCE CONSTRUCTION OF CONCRETE ON HIGHWAY 10.

Stevens Point, Wis.—Portage county has been offered $50,000 by the state highway commission for concrete highway construction on Highway 10, provided that the county board appropriated an equal sum.

Letter Read to Board

The offer, made in a letter which was read to the county board yesterday afternoon, pointed out that Portage county had already received $158,000 in state and federal aid during the past year and that the county was already outside its share of aid money, but stated that if the board would carry out its construction program for Highway 18 and would appropriate $50,000 in addition for Highway 10, the state would put another $50,000 on 10, making possible the construction there of approximately four miles of concrete.

A resolution was offered by Supervisors Ben Halverson of New Hope F. B. Dent of Belmont and O. A. Crowell of Almond village, levying a tax of $50,000 to meet this state appropriation for Highway 10.

To Bond for $150,000

Another resolution by the same three supervisors provided for a bond issue of $150,000 for the Amherst-Stevens Point road on the new route laid out by the highway commission. This resolution was laid over as was also the one relating to Road 10.

Governor Blaine Calls For Observance of Thanksgiving

Madison, Wis., Nov. 22—Governor Blaine today issued his Thanksgiving Day proclamation, calling upon the citizens of the state to observe the day. The proclamation follows:

"In America, by custom and common consent, we have followed the tradition established by our Pilgrim fathers to set aside a special day for the worship of God and the rendering of thanks. The rigors of the northern climate bring to us the winter after our harvests are gathered. As a nation we have been favored. During the past year, war and pestilence, want and hate and fear, have held sway in Europe—thousands have died from famine in China—Japan has suffered an unparalled disaster which has excited the sympathy of the entire world. We have lived in peace and in comparative plenty.

"We have known sorrow in the loss of our President, and we are not unmindful of the distress prevalent abroad. As a nation we have been blessed with material things in comparison with people of other nations who are suffering the pangs of hunger and of want. Losses and disasters are not unexpected and such as we have had our people have borne with great fortitude, but such as we have suffered are inconsequential in comparison with the trials that have come to other lands.

"As a state we have much for which to give thanks. Our labors have been rewarded with no mean success. We have enough to meet our own needs and to share with our less fortunate brothers in our own country and in other countries. In the words of our President: 'We will do well then to render thanks for the good that has come to us, and show by our actions that we have become stronger, wiser and truer by the chastenings that have been imposed upon us. We will thus prepare ourselves for the part we must take in a world which forever needs the full measure of service. We have been a most favored people. We ought to be a most generous people. We have been a most blessed people. We ought to be a most thankful people.'"

Refinery In Louisiana Is Blast Scene

(By Associated Press)

New Iberia, La., Nov. 22—Search was continued today for additional bodies in the ruins of the Vida Sugar Refining company at Loreauville, ten miles east of here, which was razed late yesterday by a terrific boiler explosion that killed at least nine persons and injured 15 others, five of them probably fatally.

A check of the refinery payroll disclosed that there are three employes still unaccounted for, and it is feared that they are buried under the debris of the plant which is completely ruined causing an estimated loss of $100,000. Nine bodies have been taken from the ruins.

TELLS ADVANTAGE OF COUNTY COURT

ATTORNEY C. E. BRIERE TELLS COUNTY BOARD MEMBERS OF BENEFITS THAT MAY BE DERIVED

The advantages of the county court of Wood county being extended greater judicial powers by the state legislature were clearly explained to the ocunty board members, late Wednesday afternoon, by Charles E. Briere, Wisconsin Rapids Attorney, who represented the Wood County Bar association.

To Collect No Fees

In his talk, Mr. Briere stated that the salary question had been settled at a conference of the bar association members who recommended it to the judiciary committee of the county board who in turn recommended it to the county board, introducing the bar association's recommendation as their own resolution. The salary agreed upon was $5,500 for the county judge and $900 for the clerk of court, with the provision that the clerk of circuit court handle the duties of the county court in addition to his former duties. Under the resolution as adopted, the county judge will not collect fees for his former work, but will turn all fees collected over to the county treasurer while he will assume the added duties and retain the old at a fixed salary of $5,500 per year.

In the budget adopted today, from the finance committee's report, $10,000 was set aside for county court use annually, the salaries of the two officials being included in the sum set aside.

Six Terms of Court

County Judge W. J. Conway, who has held the office for a great number of years, will until the next election or until he is defeated or declines to seek the office held six terms of court in the county annually, four in Wisconsin Rapids at the court house, and two in Marshfield, in all probability at the city hall. Judge Conway will also abandon his private practice and give his full time to the county.

To Hasten Justice

In explaining the added duties of the office, Mr. Briere stated that the county court judge would have jurisdiction over all criminal cases where in a sentence to state prison could not be inflicted and in all civil actions up to $5,000. He said that the county court would cut out practically all justice court cases and would materially reduce the expenses of circuit court by exacting justice in all cases within its jurisdiction and would hasten justice in both criminal and civil cases. It was also pointed out that no large venire of jurymen would be called into court awaiting jury service at the expense of the county. In closing it was stated that practically all of the leading counties have been given added jurisdiction in their county courts and found the arrangement entirely satisfactory.

Since the prohibition law came into existence the circuits courts have been rushed each term to complete their calendars, at times finding this impossible owing to the large number of cases. With the introduction of increased judicial power to the county court, wherein moonshine cases may be handled, this will be greatly alleviated it was stated.

UNIVERSITY DEAN PUSHES PROBE OF BOOZE SITUATION

GOODNIGHT IS GATHERING FACTS REGARDING HOMECOMING "DRUNK"; WILL REPORT TO REGENTS.

(By Associated Press)

Madison, Nov. 22—Investigation of liquor conditions among University of Wisconsin students during the recent homecoming celebration has been instituted, S. H. Goodnight, dean of men, stated today. Inspectors from Dean Goodnight's office are questioning rooming house operators in regard to the presence of liquor in their houses.

Regents Will Hear

The inquiry is the latest action as a result of the resolution passed by a men's organization in Milwaukee after publication in the Daily Cardinal, student paper, of an editorial on the liquor situation. A report will probably be placed before the board of regents when it meets here. The results of the inquiry thus far have not been made ksown.

Hold Booze Runner

Madison, Nov. 22—A man giving his name as Joseph Sullivan, Chicago, who was taken into custody late yesterday by Madison officers when liquor valued at $2,500 was captured, was arraigned before Judge Hoppman in Superior court this morning and pleaded not guilty. Meanwhile police continued a search for a second man who is said to have accompanied Sullivan to Madison in an automobile.

Police officers stated today that a portion of the liquor brought to Madison was for distribution among university students. The automobile containing the liquor was captured in the university district. Local detectives expressed the opinion that the man captured last night was part of an organized group bringing liquor into Madison.

Young Woman Kills Self; Throws Self Under Train

(By Associated Press)

Green Bay, Nov. 22—Crawling from behind a pile of ties beside the tracks of the Ashland limited, an unidentified young woman committed suicide by throwing herself in front of the approaching train last night about a mile west of Frances creek. A search of the scene of the death revealed a shawl on top of a pile of ties upon which the young woman apparently sat while waiting for the train.

The girl was about 25 years of age, 5 feet 8 inches in height, and had dark eyes and hair, and wore a dark dress with a lace collar.

Board Favors Appeal in Halsten G. Halsten Suit

After the members of the county road and bridge committee had introduced a resolution empowering the district attorny to seek an appeal in the damage suit brought against the county by Mrs. Halsten G. Halsten, Black Earth Wisconsin, resident who was awarded damages of $5,000 against the county by a jury in circuit court here this fall as result of an automble accident near Marshfield, against the county by a jury n circ the county board members voted unaminously in favor of the resolution. The resolution also empowered the district attorney to carry the case to the supreme court if necessary.

Aviator Takes Tumble; Pays Fine for Trespass

(By Associated Press)

Waukegan, Ill., Nov. 22.—R. F. Conant, a former district attorney, and Hanford Waschauer, both of Milwaukee, who with an unidentified woman in an airplane made a 200 foot dive to earth near here were fined $10 each because they landed without a permit. After being held all day yesterday by Sheriff Alstrom the men were released last night after paying fines for trespassing.

Blinding Headlights Cost Life of 15 Year Old Girl

(By Associated Press)

Janesville, Wis., Nov. 22—Blinding lights on an automobile so disconcerted six young girls walking on highway 26 from high school at Watertown to the Otto Klasch home near there that they failed to get off the road and Magdeline Klasch, 15, is dead, and Gertrude Jaeger, 17, is in the Watertown hospital with a broken leg.

To Circulate Petition For Vote On Ceasing Road Work

Shortly after the adjournment of the County Board today, J. C. Kieffer, supervisor from Auburndale town and A. P. Bean, supervisor for town of Hansen, announced jointly in an interview with the Tribune that there would be circulated a petition among the voters of the county asking for the cessation, during the years 1925 and 1926, of concrete highway construction by the county. The petition will further ask that the proposal be voted on by referendum next spring at the annual election. Both Mr. Kieffer and Mr. Bean stated that they would not personally circulate the petitions but that there were dozens of people in every town in the county who would circulate them. They stated that under the law they would not be permitted to circulate petitions because of their membership on the county board although they declare they will support the petitions in every respect.

Circulate Dec. 10

Mr. Kieffer stated that he and Mr. Bean had consulted competent legal advisors and had learned of the manner in which the proposition may be put to the vote of the people. According to Mr. Kieffer, there will be necessary signatures of fifteen per cent of the number of voters who in this county at the last election cast their vote for the office of governor. The number is estimated to be 1500 signatures. "If that number is received," Mr. Kieffer said, "it shall be put upon the ballot and the people will have an opportunity to express their views whether or not there shall be any more concrete road building program during 1925 and 1926."

Very Dissatisfied

When questioned regarding the proposed referendum on the two year concrete road holiday, Mr. Kieffer said: "Both Mr. Bean and myself have been active for two or more years to prevent the huge road appropriations from passing the county board and each year we have lost the fight for the people. We know that we represent the views of a great majority of the people and we intend to use this legitimate method of preventing any more road construction during 1925 and 1926."

Stringent Dance Ordinance Adopted By County Board

CHILDREN BARRED AND MIDNIGHT CLOSING MADE OBLIGATORY; INSPECTION SYSTEM INSTITUTED

A stringent ordinance for the licensing and inspection of all public dances in Wood county, and forbidding the attendance at such dances of children under 16 years of age unless accompanied by a parent or legal guardian, was adopted by the county board of supervisors yesterday afternoon by a vote of 28 to 12, with two members of the board not voting and one absent. The ordinance, which was drawn for the counties of the state by the attorney general's office, was introduced by Supervisor Reuben Connor of the village of Auburndale.

Rules Governing Dances

The rules and regulations governing the conduct of public dances are included in section eight of the ordinance, in the following subsections:

"a. At no public dance shall the presence of any person under sixteen years of age be permitted unless such person is accompanied by parent or legal guardian.

"b. Public dances shall be discontinued, and public dance halls closed for the night on or before twelve o'clock midnight, excepting New Year's Eve, when they may remain open until twelve-thirty o'clock. No public dances shall be conducted between such closing hour and 8 o'clock a. m. The dance hall inspection committee may, upon written application, by special permit in writing given over the signatures of at least two members thereof, relieve any licensee from the provisions of this rule, but each such permit shall except one dance only and shall be issued not more than ten days prior to the holding of such dance.

"c. No pass-out checks permitting any person to leave and reenter a public dance hall during a public dance shall be issued.

"d. The possession, drinking or offering to another person of intoxicating liquors shall not be permitted, either in a public dance hall or on the premises on which it is situated.

"e. The participation in a public dance of persons under the influence of liquor or drugs shall not be permitted.

"f. Idlers or loiterers shall not be permitted to remain either in a public dance hall or on the premises on which it is situated.

"g. All dances held in the night time shall be kept well and sufficiently lighted at all times."

Halls Must Be Licensed

The ordinance provides that all public dance halls must be licensed, licenses to be issued upon the payment of a $10 fee by a majority vote of the county board or by the chairman of the board subject to its approval when it meets. Permits for each dance must be obtained from the county clerk, and a $3 inspection fee must be paid for each permit.

The enforcement of the ordinance is placed in the hands of a special committee of the county board, to which Chairman Chapman appointed R. J. Straus of Marshfield, chairman, Reuben Connor of Auburndale and L. C. Kellogg of Nekoosa. This committee will meet at the court house Monday to select dance inspectors for each township in the county. These inspectors will be notified by the county clerk when a permit for a dance has been obtained, and will be required to attend such dances and see that the law is observed and those in attendance conduct themselves properly. Inspectors have the power to order any dance hall closed immediately, and are required to file a written report of each dance with the county clerk.

Violations of the ordinance will be punished by the revocation of license and by fine of from $25 to $1,000 or imprisonment from 30 days in the county jail to one year in state prison.

Need Drinks License

Under the ordinance any establishment at which drinks of any kind are sold in connection with a dance must have a license to sell non-intoxicating beverages, thus making it liable to search without a warrant under the provisions of the Severson prohibition enforcement act.

The ordinance will be published in the Daily Tribune on Saturday, and will go into effect on December 15.

Big Majority Kills Bill Regulating Parking Rights

By a big majority the county board members killed a resolution which would make the parking of an automobile within 12 feet of the center of a concrete highway a criminal offense, punishable by a fine of not less than $10 or more than $10 or a thirty day jail sentence in default of payment. The resolution met with an overwhelming defeat.

DULUTH MAN IS VICTIM OF SHOT BY 3-YEAR CHILD

BANKER DIES INSTANTLY FOLLOWING TRAGIC ACCIDENT AT HOME; WAS CLEANING RIFLE

(By Associated Press)

Duluth, Minn., Nov. 22.—Accidentally shot with his own rifle, Walter C. Harris, 40, teller of the American Exchange bank, was killed at 8:15 Wednesday at his home. Statements were made that the shot that ended his life was fired by his 3-year-old daughter, Jane.

Mr. Harris had taken the rifle into the kitchen to clean it and Mrs. Harris and two daughters, Jane and Betty, 6, were in an adjoining room from the kitchen when Mr. Harris called to his youngest daughter.

The two girls went in to their father when suddenly Mrs. Harris, who was sewing, heard a shot and Betty ran into her mother with blood on her dress and cried, "Daddy is shot, mother." Terrified Mrs. Harris ran to the door and then called for a doctor. Harry Gardener, a neighbor, heard the shots and Mrs. Harris' call for help and entered the house. He found Harris lying on the floor a bullet in his left brest which passed through the body and lodged in the wall of the kitchen.

PORTAGE COUNTY OFFERED $50,000

STATE HIGHWAY COMMISSION MAKES OFFER TO INDUCE CONSTRUCTION OF CONCRETE ON HIGHWAY 10.

Stevens Point, Wis.—Portage county has been offered $50,000 by the state highway commission for concrete highway construction on Highway 10, provided that the county board appropriated an equal sum.

Letter Read to Board

The offer, made in a letter which was read to the county board yesterday afternoon, pointed out that Portage county had already received $158,000 in state and federal aid during the past year and that the county was already outside its share of aid money, but stated that if the board would carry out its construction program for Highway 18 and would appropriate $50,000 in addition for Highway 10, the state would put another $50,000 on 10, making possible the construction there of approximately four miles of concrete.

A resolution was offered by Supervisors Ben Halverson of New Hope, F. B. Dent of Belmont, and O. A. Crowell of Almond village, levying a tax of $50,000 to meet this state appropriation for Highway 10.

To Bond for $150,000

Another resolution by the same three supervisors provided for a bond issue of $150,000 for the Amherst-Stevens Point road on the new route laid out by the highway commission. This resolution was laid over as was also the one relating to Road 10.

Governor Blaine Calls For Observance of Thanksgiving

Madison, Wis., Nov. 22—Governor Blaine today issued his Thanksgiving Day proclamation, calling upon the citizens of the state to observe the day. The proclamation follows:

"In America, by custom and common consent, we have followed the tradition established by our Pilgrim fathers to set aside a special day for the worship of God and the rendering of thanks. The vigors of the northern climate bring to us the winter after our harvests are gathered. As a nation we have been favored. During the past year, war and pestilence, want and hate and fear, have held sway in Europe—thousands have died from famine in China—Japan has suffered an unparalled disaster which has excited the sympathy of the entire world. We have lived in peace and in comparative plenty.

"We have known sorrow in the loss of our President, and we are not unmindful of the distress prevalent abroad. As a nation we have been blessed with material things in comparison with people of other nations who are suffering the pangs of hunger and of want. Losses and disasters are not unexpected and such as we have had our people have borne with great fortitude, but such as we have suffered are inconsequential in comparison with the trials that have come to other lands.

"As a state we have much for which to give thanks. Our labors have been rewarded with no mean success. We have enough to meet our own needs and to share with our less fortunate brothers in our own country and in other countries. In the words of our President: 'We will do well then to render thanks for the good that has come to us, and show by our actions that we have become stronger, wiser and truer by the chastenings that have been imposed upon us. We will thus prepare ourselves for the part we must take in a world which forever needs the full measure of service. We have been a most favored people. We ought to be a most generous people. We have been a most blessed people. We ought to be a most thankful people.'"

Refinery In Louisiana Is Blast Scene

(By Associated Press)

New Iberia, La., Nov. 22—Search was continued today for additional bodies in the ruins of the Vida Sugar Refining company at Loreauville, ten miles east of here, which was razed late yesterday by a terrific boiler explosion that killed at least nine persons and injured 15 others, five of them probably fatally.

A check of the refinery payroll disclosed that there are three employes still unaccounted for, and it is feared that they are buried under the debris of the plant which is completely ruined causing an estimated loss of $100,000. Nine bodies have been taken from the ruins.

TELLS ADVANTAGE OF COUNTY COURT

ATTORNEY C. E. BRIERE TELLS COUNTY BOARD MEMBERS OF BENEFITS THAT MAY BE DERIVED

The advantages of the county court of Wood county being extended greater judicial powers by the state legislature were clearly explained to the county board members, late Wednesday afternoon, by Charles E. Briere, Wisconsin Rapids Attorney, who represented the Wood County Bar association.

To Collect No Fees

In his talk, Mr. Briere stated that the salary question had been settled at a conference of the bar association members who recommended it to the judiciary committee of the county board who in turn recommended it to the county board, introducing the bar association's recommendation as their own resolution. The salary agreed upon was $5,500 for the county judge and $900 for the clerk of court, with the provision that the clerk of circuit court handle the duties of the county court in addition to his former duties. Under the resolution as adopted, the county judge will not collect fees for his former work, but will turn all fees collected over to the county treasurer while he will assume the added duties and retain the old at a fixed salary of $5,500 per year.

In the budget adopted today, from the finance committee's report, $10,000 was set aside for county court use annually, the salaries of the two officials being included in the sum set aside.

Six Terms of Court

County Judge W. J. Conway, who has held the office for a great number of years, will until the next election or until he is defeated or declines to seek the office held six terms of court in the county annually, four in Wisconsin Rapids at the court house, and two in Marshfield, in all probability at the city hall. Judge Conway will also abandon his private practice and give his full time to the county.

To Hasten Justice

In explaining the added duties of the office, Mr. Briere stated that the county court judge would have jurisdiction over all criminal cases where in a sentence to state prison could not be inflicted and in all civil actions up to $5,000. He said that the county court would cut out practically all justice court cases and would materially reduce the expenses of circuit court by exacting justice in all cases within its jurisdiction and would hasten justice in both criminal and civil cases. It was also pointed out that no large venire of jurymen would be called into court awaiting jury service at the expense of the county. In closing it was stated that practically all of the leading counties have been given added jurisdiction in their county courts and found the arrangement entirely satisfactory.

Since the prohibition law came into existence the circuits courts have been rushed each term to complete their calendars, at times finding this impossible owing to the large number of cases. With the introduction of increased judicial power to the county court, wherein moonshine cases may be handled, this will be greatly alleviated it was stated.

UNIVERSITY DEAN PUSHES PROBE OF BOOZE SITUATION

GOODNIGHT IS GATHERING FACTS REGARDING HOMECOMING "DRUNK"; WILL REPORT TO REGENTS.

(By Associated Press)

Madison, Nov. 22—Investigation of liquor conditions among University of Wisconsin students during the recent homecoming celebration has been instituted, S. H. Goodnight, dean of men, stated today. Inspectors from Dean Goodnight's office are questioning rooming house operators in regard to the presence of liquor in their houses.

Regents Will Hear

The inquiry is the latest action as a result of the resolution passed by a men's organization in Milwaukee after publication in the Daily Cardinal, student paper, of an editorial on the liquor situation. A report will probably be placed before the board of regents when it meets here. The results of the inquiry thus far have not been made known.

Hold Booze Runner

Madison, Nov. 22—A man giving his name as Joseph Sullivan, Chicago, who was taken into custody late yesterday by Madison officers when liquor valued at $2,500 was captured, was arraigned before Judge Hoppman in Superior court this morning and pleaded not guilty. Meanwhile police continued a search for a second man who is said to have accompanied Sullivan to Madison in an automobile.

Police officers stated today that a portion of the liquor brought to Madison was for distribution among university students. The automobile containing the liquor was captured in the university district. Local detectives expressed the opinion that the man captured last night was part of an organized group bringing liquor into Madison.

Young Woman Kills Self; Throws Self Under Train

(By Associated Press)

Green Bay, Nov. 22—Crawling from behind a pile of ties beside the tracks of the Ashland limited an unidentified young woman committed suicide by throwing herself in front of the approaching train last night about a mile west of Frances creek. A search of the scene of the death revealed a shawl on top of a pile of ties upon which the young woman apparently sat while waiting for the train.

The girl was about 26 years of age, 5 feet 8 inches in height, and had dark eyes and hair, and wore a dark dress with a lace collar.

Board Favors Appeal in Halsten G. Halsten Suit

After the members of the county road and bridge committee had introduced a resolution empowering the district attorny to seek an appeal in the damage suit brought against the county by Mrs. Halsten G. Halsten, Black Earth Wisconsin, resident who was awarded damages of $5,000 against the county by a jury in circuit court here this fall as result of an automobile accident near Marshfield, against the county by a jury n circ the county board members voted unanimously in favor of the resolution. The resolution also empowered the district attorney to carry the case to the supreme court if necessary.

Aviator Takes Tumble; Pays Fine for Trespass

(By Associated Press)

Waukegan, Ill., Nov. 22.—R. F. Conant, a former district attorney, and Hanford Waschauer, both of Milwaukee, who with an unidentified woman in an airplane made a 200 foot dive to earth near here were fined $10 each because they landed without a permit. After being held all day yesterday by Sheriff Alstrom the men were released last night after paying fines for trespassing.

OUR OVERWORKED PRESIDENTS

Academic elements in politics are representing that American presidents are brutally sacrificed on the altar of over-work. They are offering to relieve unfortunate occupants of the White House of their strenuous duties by creating four or five more departments or cabinet positions. It is to be hoped that President Coolidge, who seems to be a common-sense, hard-boiled, nutmeg-state New Englander, will not fall for these kindly offers of the bureaucrats—he knows hard work never hurts anybody.

More presidents have had their careers shortened by banqueting, strong dark cigars and social high-life forced upon them than by the cruelties of hard work, or even the worriment of appointing people to office.

The bureaucrats are always ready to propose a new cabinet position, or a new department, and then fasten the myriad occupants on to taxpayers for life.

WATCH THAT MATCH AND "SMOKE"

It will probably surprise a great many people to learn that carelessness with matches and smoking materials today constitutes the greatest single cause of fire loss in the United States, yet the carefully compiled statistics of the National Board of Fire Underwriters show this to be true.

"It is the custom of the National Board of Fire Underwriters to combine, under the classification of 'Matches-Smoking,' fires due to either of these hazards," says W. E. Mallalieu, General Manager of the organization, "because so many of the match fires are due to burning lucifers thrown away by thoughtless smokers.

"The destruction of property from this cause now amounts to nearly $26,000,000 a year, which is far more than the toll exacted by any other hazard, despite the fact that the damages from 'Matches-Smoking' are so largely preventable.

"The remedy lies in educating the people to a greater degree of carefulness in handling lighted matches, cigars, cigarettes and pipes; and, to their credit, it may be said that two of the largest tobacco companies in the country, and two of the principal match producers, are endeavoring to change the habits of their careless customers by imprinting suitable precautions upon cigarette and match boxes."

In course of time, the effect of these appeals to the public should become visible; otherwise it is fairly safe to predict that public sentiment will bring about further enactment of personal liability laws providing for civil punishment of persons guilty of causing fire destruction by their obvious carelessness.

A life sentence has just been given to a Mexican at Sacramento, California, who set fire to a school house and burned 10 Japanese children to death.

Here is something to give the shivers to our best minds. England is seriously discussing a levy on capital, which means solving England's financial situation by simply taking a large part of everybody's fortune, not income, but actual capital, property of all kinds. Only five thousand pounds would be exempt. From a man with a million pounds, six hundred thousand pounds would be taken.

Imagine that here, where we don't even pretend to collect income tax on the great fortunes.

Farm Home on Highway 10 Leveled by Fire Tuesday

The dwelling on the J. W. Dunegan farm, situated on highway 10 in the town of Plover a short distance below the end of the concrete road, was totally destroyed by fire Tuesday morning. Tenants of the property, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shopinski, were not at home at the time.

The blaze was discovered at 9:30 o'clock by a neighbor, Mrs. Joseph Strike, who saw clouds of smoke coming out of the house near the roof. She quickly called her husband, who with other men in the vicinity hurried to the place. They found the doors securely fastened but forced an entrance by breaking the doors and were able to remove most of the household goods.

Nothing could be done to check the progress of the flames, however, and the dwelling was entirely consumed. The loss is estimated at between $1,000 and $1,500. Insurance was carried. The Shopinskis have been on the farm for the past year. While the origin of the fire is unknown it is believed to have started from a defective chimney.

OUR OVERWORKED PRESIDENTS

Academic elements in politics are representing that American presidents are brutally sacrificed on the altar of over-work. They are offering to relieve unfortunate occupants of the White House of their strenuous duties by creating four or five more departments or cabinet positions. It is to be hoped that President Coolidge, who seems to be a common-sense, hard-boiled, nutmeg-state New Englander, will not fall for these kindly offers of the bureaucrats—he knows hard work never hurts anybody.

More presidents have had their careers shortened by banqueting, strong dark cigars and social high-life forced upon them than by the cruelties of hard work, or even the worriment of appointing people to office.

The bureaucrats are always ready to propose a new cabinet position, or a new department, and then fasten the myriad occupants on to taxpayers for life.

WATCH THAT MATCH AND "SMOKE"

It will probably surprise a great many people to learn that carelessness with matches and smoking materials today constitutes the greatest single cause of fire-loss in the United States, yet the carefully compiled statistics of the National Board of Fire Underwriters show this to be true.

"It is the custom of the National Board of Fire Underwriters to combine, under the classification of 'Matches-Smoking,' fires due to either of these hazards," says W. E. Mallalieu, General Manager of the organization, "because so many of the match fires are due to burning lucifers thrown away by thoughtless smokers.

"The destruction of property from this cause now amounts to nearly $26,000,000 a year, which is far more than the toll exacted by any other hazard, despite the fact that the damages from 'Matches-Smoking' are so largely preventable.

"The remedy lies in educating the people to a greater degree of carefulness in handling lighted matches, cigars, cigarettes and pipes; and, to their credit, it may be said that two of the largest tobacco companies in the country, and two of the principal match producers, are endeavoring to change the habits of their careless customers by imprinting suitable precautions upon cigarette and match boxes."

In course of time, the effect of these appeals to the public should become visible; otherwise it is fairly safe to predict that public sentiment will bring about further enactment of personal liability laws providing for civil punishment of persons guilty of causing fire destruction by their obvious carelessness.

A life sentence has just been given to a Mexican at Sacramento, California, who set fire to a school house and burned 10 Japanese children to death.

Today

By Arthur Brisbane

Here is something to give the shivers to our best minds. England is seriously discussing a levy on capital, which means solving England's financial situation by simply taking a large part of everybody's fortune, not income, but actual capital, property of all kinds. Only five thousand pounds would be exempt. From a man with a million pounds, six hundred thousand pounds would be taken.

Imagine that here, where we don't even pretend to collect income tax on the great fortunes.

News of Today And Yesterday

NOVEMBER 22

IN THE DAY'S NEWS

Lord Milner, chairman of the committee appointed by Premier Baldwin to prepare the proposed tariff schedules for Great Britain, is in his 70th year and has had a brilliant career in English politics. He acted as private secretary to Lord Goschen when Chancellor of the Exchequer, and later was chairman of the Board of Inland revenue. It was, however, with Africa that his name is chiefly associated. He was Financial Under Secretary for Egypt for three years, beginning in 1889, and between 1897 and 1905 in turn Governor of Cape of Good Hope, of the Transvaal and High Commissioner for South Africa. Lord Milner was born in Germany, worked his way through Oxford, and entered politics at the age of 30. He was the first peer to be created by King Edward VII. His last important public office was that of Secretary of State for the Colonies.

Farm Home on Highway 10 Leveled by Fire Tuesday

The dwelling on the J. W. Dunegan farm, situated on highway 10 in the town of Plover a short distance below the end of the concrete road, was totally destroyed by fire Tuesday morning. Tenants of the property, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shopinski, were not at home at the time.

The blaze was discovered at 9:30 o'clock by a neighbor, Mrs. Joseph Strike, who saw clouds of smoke coming out of the house near the roof. She quickly called her husband, who with other men in the vicinity hurried to the place. They found the doors securely fastened but forced an entrance by breaking the doors and were able to remove most of the household goods.

Nothing could be done to check the progress of the flames, however, and the dwelling was entirely consumed. The loss is estimated at between $1,000 and $1,500. Insurance was carried. The Shopinskis have been on the farm for the past year. While the origin of the fire is unknown it is believed to have started from a defective chimney.

Oratorical and Declamatory Contests At H. S. Friday P. M.

FOURTEEN GIRLS AND SEVEN BOYS ENTERED IN PRELIMINARY CONTEST; PUBLIC IS INVITED

Friday evening at 7:15 in the auditorium of Lincoln high school the oratorical and declamatory preliminary contests will be held under the supervision of the teachers from the various departments, with seven boys participating in the oratorical contest and fourteen girls striving for honors in the declamatory tryouts. Everybody is invited to attend the contest to which no admission will be charged.

Working Several Weeks

For the past several weeks the candidates have been working on their selections and have at this time reached a stage where it was thought that all could do themselves and their selections justice. With this in view the instructors decided to hold the contest tomorrow evening.

Leading Orators Entered

Seven boys announced their intentions of trying out in the oratorical contest, among them being George Jacobson and Nels Justeson, leading contestants in the contest a year ago. Others who are entered in the oratorical tryouts are: Benjamin Rossier, Herbert Johnson, Donald Odegard, Harold Beardsley and Julien Arpin.

The following girls will appear in the declamatory contest: Phyllis Millenbach, Amelia Schalla, Blanche Weeks, Grace Westenborg, Margaret Searles, Fern Hamiel, Leonore Fridstein, Norma Bunde, Eleanore Hall, Anna Corcoran, Mildred Bossert, Mildred Green, Florence Ackenrod and Evelyn Bissig.

Emergency Board Will Take Final Vote Friday

Madison, Wis.—Wide interest is centered on the meeting of the emergency board on Friday when the final vote on emergency appropriation for the normal schools and the university will be taken.

Voting these appropriations will take the state out of the financial tangle resulting from the failure of the legislature to appropriate money to the educational institutions. It will also mean that there will be no special session of the legisature.

Buys Second Carload of High Grade Guernsey Cows

W. W. Clark, one of the progressive farmers of the county and former county agricultural agent, now employed at farming in the town of Hansen where he has been instrumental in the formation of the Wood County Farm Bureau not only in his own township but in others as well, sees great progress in the movement of surplus dairy cattle as soon as the organization gains a strong foothold in this territory.

In a communication to the Daily Tribune, Mr. Clark reports that L. I. Burlingham, Dousman, Wisconsin was in the vicinity of Vesper during the past few days and purchased twenty-one high grade and one pure bred Guernsey cows. According to Mr. Clark this is the second carload that Mr. Burlingham has shipped out of the Vesper vicinity this fall.

Rind on Cheese Soon to Be Thing of the Past

Madison, Wis.—Nearly all, if not all, Wisconsin made cheese will be made without rind, if the demand of the last two years keeps up, according to a statement made today by Math Michals, dairy expert, Wisconsin department of markets.

At present, the expert says, the call is for rindless cheese wrapped in tinfoil. Since the beginning of the industry in the state Mr. Michels avers that cheese rind has passed through several stages. Up to thirty years ago, grease was applied to the outside of cheese to prevnt checking and mold. Since that time parafine has been used for this purpose, and this now is being replaced by rindless cheese wrapped in tinfoil, according to Mr. Michels.

Oratorical and Declamatory Contests At H. S. Friday P. M.

FOURTEEN GIRLS AND SEVEN BOYS ENTERED IN PRELIMINARY CONTEST; PUBLIC IS INVITED

Friday evening at 7:15 in the auditorium of Lincoln high school the oratorical and declamatory preliminary contests will be held under the supervision of the teachers from the various departments, with seven boys participating in the oratorical contest and fourteen girls striving for honors in the declamatory tryouts. Everybody is invited to attend the contest to which no admission will be charged.

Working Several Weeks

For the past several weeks the candidates have been working on their selections and have at this time reached a stage where it was thought that all could do themselves and their selections justice. With this in view the instructors decided to hold the contest tomorrow evening.

Leading Orators Entered

Seven boys announced their intentions of trying out in the oratorical contest, among them being George Jacobson and Nels Justeson, leading contestants in the contest a year ago. Others who are entered in the oratorical tryouts are: Benjamin Rossier, Herbert Johnson, Donald Odegard, Harold Beardsley and Julien Arpin.

The following girls will appear in the declamatory contest: Phyllis Millenbach, Amelia Schalla, Blanche Weeks, Grace Westenberg, Margaret Searles, Fern Hamiel, Leonore Fridstein, Norma Bunde, Eleanore Hall, Anna Corcoran, Mildred Bossert, Mildred Green, Florence Ackenrod and Evelyn Bissig.

Emergency Board Will Take Final Vote Friday

Madison, Wis.—Wide interest is centered on the meeting of the emergency board on Friday when the final vote on emergency appropriation for the normal schools and the university will be taken.

Voting these appropriations will take the state out of the financial tangle resulting from the failure of the legislature to appropriate money to the educational institutions. It will also mean that there will be no special session of the legislature.

Buys Second Carload of High Grade Guernsey Cows

W. W. Clark, one of the progressive farmers of the county and former county agricultural agent, now employed at farming in the town of Hansen where he has been instrumental in the formation of the Wood County Farm Bureau not only in his own township but in others as well, sees great progress in the movement of surplus dairy cattle as soon as the organization gains a strong foothold in this territory.

In a communication to the Daily Tribune, Mr. Clark reports that L. I. Burlingham, Dousman, Wisconsin was in the vicinity of Vesper during the past few days and purchased twenty-one high grade and one pure breed Guernsey cows. According to Mr. Clark this is the second carload that Mr. Burlingham has shipped out of the Vesper vicinity this fall.

Rind on Cheese Soon to Be Thing of the Past

Madison, Wis.—Nearly all, if not all, Wisconsin made cheese will be made without rind, if the demand of the last two years keeps up, according to a statement made today by Math Michels, dairy expert, Wisconsin department of markets.

At present, the expert says, the call is for rindless cheese wrapped in tinfoil. Since the beginning of the industry in the state Mr. Michels avers that cheese rind has passed through several stages. Up to thirty years ago, grease was applied to the outside of cheese to prevent checking and mold. Since that time parafine has been used for this purpose, and this now is being replaced by rindless cheese wrapped in tinfoil, according to Mr. Michels.

GOODYEAR

May Bring Car Wheat Here As Bran Substitute

An effort is being made by the Wood County Farm Bureau to secure a car load of low grade wheat for use as a substitute for bran. It is the belief of bureau officers that at the present low prices of wheat it will be possible to secure such a shipment and to have it ground and distributed among members at a price below that which farmers are now compelled to pay for bran.

Organization meetings of the bureau were held Tuesday and Wednesday in the town of Cary where much interest was manifested and a considerable number of new members were signed up. The meeting Tuesday was at the Rocky Run school in the town of Cary and that Wednesday at the Meyer school in the western part of the township.

The membership of the county bureau now totals about 250.

Hope to Start Testing at Auburndale December 1

H. C. Searles, field man of the Wisconsin Dairymen's association, has been meeting farmers in various sections of the county in a series of meetings arranged by County Agent Peterson. Particular attention has been devoted to the country around Auburndale, where a cow testing association is being organized, and Mr. Peterson today expressed confidence that enough members would be signed up so that testing would be commenced on December 1.

Interest in cow testing work seems to be high in all sections of the county, and it is thought likely that efforts will be made to organize associations at Arpin, Sherry, Wisconsin Rapids and Pittsville in the near future.

Infant of Nekoosa Woman's Daughter Dies at Cudahy

Mrs. Claude Lewis, Nekoosa, received word today from Fred Burhite of Cudahy, Wis., that his little daughter born yesterday passed away and that Mrs. Burhite is very low. Mrs. Lewis left today for Cudahy where she will assist in caring for her daughter, Mrs. Burhite.

Daily Tribune to Distribute $4,000 in Prizes Saturday

CONTENDERS FOR THREE MOTOR CARS AND OTHER VALUABLE AWARDS ARE PUTTING FORTH BEST EFFORTS

The final count of votes which will determine the winners of the Daily Tribune's $4,000 in splendid awards will be in charge of three prominent, disinterested Wisconsin Rapids Business men, as follows:

Edward C. Brenner, Auditor, First National Bank.

E. C. Wittig, Ass't. Cashier, Wood Co. Nat'l. Bank.

Walter F. Herschleb, Ass't. Cashier, Citizens National Bank.

As a result of this campaign three of the energetic, ambitious contenders will come into possession of brand new, up-to-the-minute motor cars, and twelve others will be rewarded with liberal prizes. Just a few of the best hours of the campaign remain, candidates, and if you hope to share in the prize awarding you must make every one of those hours count.

Prizes worth nearly $4,000 are within your grasp—you are not going to let them slip away now that you have fought your way right up to the finish, are you? But that is likely to happen if you do not utilize every hour that remains. The new extra vote offer offers you an opportunity to add many thousands to your vote total, and don't imagine that your rival is not alive to that fact and taking full advantage of it.

A Word About Rumor

In any competition ever conducted a day comes when rumor begins to float through the air, and alas, timid candidates are found lending a ready ear to the rumor of the incredible amount of votes that "so-and-so" has piled up. Few reports have as yet developed, but in the nature of things they are to be expected. Some workers have an idea that by exaggerating their vote totals they will frighten out some of their opponents and so have fewer in the field against them. This is so, but they little realize the only rivals they have to fear are those who mean to stick to the finish, and these reports simply spur the plucky ones to increased activity, and in the end jeopardize their own chances of success.

Even supposing that a candidate has several thousand more votes than you have today, what of it? The remedy lies in your own hands. Get out the little receipt book and go after subscriptions until you no longer fear your competitors. Talk nothing but votes, for subscriptions mean votes and more work means a better showing.

7 P. M. the Last Minute

Don't be late at the finish. All votes and subscriptions to count in the campaign must be in the office promptly at 7 o'clock p. m., Saturday.

The result of the last counting of the votes by the campaign managers to appear before the close of the campaign is published today. All votes and remittances from now on will be deposited in the sealed ballot box to be included in the final counting Saturday night.

Votes will decide. Get the votes.

MADAME ANDRES

—The Wilson Music Co. of Stevens Point will present Madame Andres in concert. Her work is well known in this section, having appeared in several concerts, and her playing has been successfully broadcasted from the Waupaca station. Madame Andres enjoys a splendid reputation in Europe as a violinist.

The concert will take place at the High School Auditorium, Thanksgiving day at 4 p. m. at Stevens Point.—Advertisement.

Rheumatic Neuritis Leaves You Forever

Every druggist in this county is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer that if a full pint bottle of Allenrhu, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, does not show the way to stop the agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gadly return your money without comment.

Allenrhu has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and piteous and where the patient was helpless.

Mr. James H. Allen, the discoverer of Allenrhu, who for many years suffered the torments of acute rhumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Allenrhu decisively conquers this worst of all diseases, and he has instructed druggists to guarantee it as above in every instance. —All druggists can supply you. —Advertisement.

HAVE FORMS FOR BIG BUTTER POOL

NEW COOPERATIVE ORGANIZATION PLANS TO HANDLE 70,000,000 POUNDS OF BUTTER ANNUALLY

Madison, Wis., Nov. 22—Contract forms for the pooling of Wisconsin butter under the plan recently outlined by the Wisconsin Cooperative Creamery association, have been completed and will be distributed within a few days, it was announced by officials here today.

The butter pool will be one of the largest ever undertaken in the state, it is said by association officials. It is estimated that probably seventy million pounds of butter will be pooled annually. A campaign for pooling will be carried on by the association in an effort to market the largest part of the state's butter production.

The contract forms were drawn up by Assistant Attorney General Alvin Reis, who is legal advisor to the state marketing department.

Recently representatives of more than a score of creameries which are members of the state association met here and adopted plans for the cooperative pool. It was decided that the product will be marketed on the basis of equality grades arrived at by association officials. A full-time manager probably will be employed to manage the pool, it is said.

It is logical that we should ask the prospective buyer to gauge the worth of the Studebaker Special-Six by the measure of its sales success.

Why mention the distinctive motor or any other feature of this unusual car when the American public itself has established the greatest of all selling arguments in its favor by buying it?

Automobile license figures for every state in the Union continue to tell their own uncolored stories of Studebaker popularity.

May Bring Car Wheat Here As Bran Substitute

An effort is being made by the Wood County Farm Bureau to secure a car load of low grade wheat for use as a substitute for bran. It is the belief of bureau officers that at the present low prices of wheat it will be possible to secure such a shipment and to have it ground and distributed among members at a price below that which farmers are now compelled to pay for bran.

Organization meetings of the bureau were held Tuesday and Wednesday in the town of Cary where much interest was manifested and a considerable number of new members were signed up. The meeting Tuesday was at the Rocky Run school in the town of Cary and that Wednesday at the Meyer school in the western part of the township.

The membership of the county bureau now totals about 250.

Hope to Start Testing at Auburndale December 1

H. C. Searles, field man of the Wisconsin Dairymen's association, has been meeting farmers in various sections of the county in a series of meetings arranged by County Agent Peterson. Particular attention has been devoted to the country around Auburndale, where a cow testing association is being organized, and Mr. Peterson today expressed confidence that enough members would be signed up so that testing would be commenced on December 1.

Interest in cow testing work seems to be high in all sections of the county, and it is thought likely that efforts will be made to organize associations at Arpin, Sherry, Wisconsin Rapids and Pittsville in the near future.

Infant of Nekoosa Woman's Daughter Dies at Cudahy

Daily Tribune to Distribute $4,000 in Prizes Saturday

CONTENDERS FOR THREE MOTOR CARS AND OTHER VALUABLE AWARDS ARE PUTTING FORTH BEST EFFORTS

The final count of votes which will determine the winners of the Daily Tribune's $4,000 in splendid awards will be in charge of three prominent, disinterested Wisconsin Rapids Business men, as follows:

Edward C. Brenner, Auditor, First National Bank.

E. C. Wittig, Ass't. Cashier, Wood Co. Nat'l. Bank.

Walter F. Herschleb, Ass't. Cashier, Citizens National Bank.

Seven o'clock Saturday evening is the closing hour of the Daily Tribune's automobile and prize campaign.

As a result of this campaign three of the energetic, ambitious contenders will come into possession of brand new, up-to-the-minute motor cars, and twelve others will be rewarded with liberal prizes. Just a few of the best hours of the campaign remain, candidates, and if you hope to share in the prize awarding you must make every one of those hours count.

Prizes worth nearly $4,000 are within your grasp—you are not going to let them slip away now that you have fought your way right up to the finish, are you? But that is likely to happen if you do not utilize every hour that remains. The new extra vote offer offers you an opportunity to add many thousands to your vote total, and don't imagine that your rival is not alive to that fact and taking full advantage of it.

A Word About Rumor

In any competition ever conducted a day comes when rumor begins to float through the air, and alas, timid candidates are found lending a ready ear to the rumor of the incredible amount of votes that "so-and-so" has piled up. Few reports have as yet developed, but in the nature of things they are to be expected. Some workers have an idea that by exaggerating their vote totals they will frighten out some of their opponents and so have fewer in the field against them. This is so, but they little realize the only rivals they have to fear are those who mean to stick to the finish, and these reports simply spur the plucky ones to increased activity, and in the end jeopardize their own chances of success.

Even supposing that a candidate has several thousand more votes than you have today, what of it? The remedy lies in your own hands. Get out the little receipt book and go after subscriptions until you no longer fear your competitors. Talk nothing but votes, for subscriptions mean votes and more work means a better showing.

7 P. M. the Last Minute

Don't be late at the finish. All votes and subscriptions to count in the campaign must be in the office promptly at 7 o'clock p. m., Saturday.

The result of the last counting of the votes by the campaign managers to appear before the close of the campaign is published today. All votes and remittances from now on will be deposited in the sealed ballot box to be included in the final counting Saturday night.

Votes will decide. Get the votes.

MADAME ANDRES

—The Wilson Music Co. of Stevens Point will present Madame Andres in concert. Her work is well known in this section, having appeared in several concerts, and her playing has been successfully broadcasted from the Waupaca station. Madame Andres enjoys a splendid reputation in Europe as a violinist.

The concert will take place at the High School Auditorium, Thanksgiving day at 4 p. m. at Stevens Point.—Advertisement.

Rheumatic Neuritis Leaves You Forever

Every druggist in this county is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer that if a full pint bottle of Allenrhu, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, does not show the way to stop the agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Allenrhu has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and pitious and where the patient was helpless.

Mr. James H. Allen, the discoverer of Allenrhu, who for many years suffered the torments of acute rhumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Allenrhu decisively conquers this worst of all diseases, and he has instructed druggists to guarantee it as above in every instance. —All druggists can supply you. —Advertisement.

THE STORY SO FAR

Having completed plans for a system of mines for the defense of the Panama Canal, Captain Richard Decatur, U. S. N., prepares to leave the isthmus with the Atlantic fleet. That night, enemy agents, directed by Louis Hisston, enter the home of Governor Wainwright, start a fire and try to steal the plans. Decatur forces one of them to drop the plans into the flames. The men escape, one of them injured. Decatur sails on the following morning under instructions from Governor Wainwright to report the affair to the navy intelligence. Arriving in Washington, he goes immediately to Admiral Meade, supposed chief of the intelligence. Meade introduces a man in civilian garments, a Mr. Collins, who is the actual head of the bureau. To him Decatur makes his report and leaves under detailed instructions.

CHAPTER IV
HOME

Dismissing all thought of naval affairs from his mind, Decatur hastened from the administration building to meet Admiral Nevins. They had planned carefully for the surprise, so instead of sending for his car, Decatur signalled a taxi. Like a pair of scheming youngsters, they determined to dismiss the cab before reaching home in order to attract as little attention as possible on their arrival.

They reached the veranda without being seen and presently the door was opened by solemn old Joe, his immaculate livery scarce blacker than his skin. The old retainer fell back a pace and his face burst into a radiant grin.

"Lawd bless us!" he exclaimed. "Nobody expected you all. Whyn't yo' send some word. Mista' Dick, so's Ah could have some o' yonah apple pie ready?"

Decatur and Nevins laughed in subdued tones, the former signalling for quiet.

"Tell my wife that there's a fierce looking stranger down here who says he won't go away without seeing her," directed Decatur.

"But don't tell my wife I'm here, or I'll have your eyes blacker than they are," cautioned the admiral.

As Joe ascended the spiral stairway, Decatur stood in the center of the room and feasted his eyes on familiar things. Nevins quietly left the room and went to the veranda.

Presently Ruth descended the stairs. She was clearly disturbed by the message Joe had conveyed to her. Then, seeing Decatur from her position on the landing, she ran forward.

"Dick," she cried, as he clasped her to him.

She clung to him sobbing and he kissed her again and again, gently fondling the dark head which rested on his shoulder. Holding her at arm's length directly, Decatur towered over her frowning:

"Why—what are you crying for?" he asked, sternly.

"Because I'm so happy," she replied, smiling through the tears.

They were interrupted by laughing voices from above. Without warning, a little form shot down the curving balustrade and came to a painful halt against the heavy metal base. There was another laugh from above and a second figure hurtled down, colliding with the first in a melody of laughter.

The boy was first to glimpse his father. With a glad shout he ran into the outstretched arms that awaited him. In a twinkling, he was followed by Jill. Questions and replies mingled with high pitched, childish laughter, as they entered into the spirit of the reunion. As they were seated on the divan, Decatur holding Ruth close to him, while the children sat on his knees, Mrs. Nevins came down. She grasped the situation at a glance and her aristocratic countenance was wreathed in smiles as she came forward.

"But where is that husband of mine?" she asked.

"Didn't he send you a telegram?" asked Decatur, affecting surprise to a nicety.

"The fleet was ordered out this morning and he had to sail."

Mrs. Nevins sobered and an expression of sadness extinguished the glad light in her eyes.

"I counted on him being here for Gridley's graduation," she said.

During the byplay, Admiral Nevins had stepped silently in through the open French window. Decatur alone saw him, but gave no sign. Approaching his wife from behind, Nevins quietly covered her eyes with his hands. The surprise was complete. On the instant, Jack and Jill set up a chorus of welcome scarcely less enthusiastic than that with which they had greeted their father. Presently they were gathered about, Decatur with his arm encircling Ruth, the grim faced old admiral shamelessly holding his wife's hand.

They talked of the sea and the navy, the men recounting their experiences since last they had been home. Inevitably, the conversation came back to the Annapolis graduation, where young Gridley would become a man, in the Nevins sense of the word, which meant that he would follow the sea beneath the flag.

Their plans were carried out according to schedule. Graduation day found them at Annapolis, watching the parade, awaiting the unbroken lines of white clad young stalwarts, straining their eyes for one in particular. As the head of the line came to a halt and the command passed on back, formations were broken and slim, supple-muscled youths ran in all directions, each seeking loved ones. Gridley Nevins, bronze and powerful, burst from a crowd and ran towards them. He halted at a distance of a dozen paces and stiffened, bringing his hand to the regulation salute. Admiral Nevins and Decatur replied, then broke into smiles as the boy came forward.

"We'll, son you look like a sailor," said the admiral. "Its isn't in you to be anything else."

"There isn't any inclination for anything else, Dad," was the reply.

There was pride in his mother's eyes as she held the lad in her arms, but it was tinged with pain. She was all on the spot then, with the conflicting emotions that have set problems for mothers to solve since time began. Yet with brave smile, she patted her son on his broad shoulder and the proud light in her eyes was heightened.

As they stood chatting Senor Carlos Mendizabel, Argentine ambassador at Washington, accompanied by his daughter, Dolores, approached their group. No introductions were necessary. Mendizabel and Nevins were old friends. The women were familiar socially. It was noticeable that Gridley quickly took a position beside Dolores, oblivious of the smiles which passed from one to the other among their elders.

Beyond, on the parade grounds a squadron was swinging through its impressive maneuvers. A navy band was playing in the distance. Groups of white clad midshipmen, mingling with the darker uniforms of the service and the gowns of women, presented a scene so colorful that it caught and held the roving eye. Bugles sounded and from all directions men came running. They fell into line and presently the long columns began to move towards Graduation Hall.

Decatur and Ruth sat together beside Admiral and Mrs. Nevins. Senor Mendizabel and his daughter occupied chairs slightly to their left and in the rear. The children, Jack and Jill, stood half amused, partly awed, by the splendor of the scene before them. Here and there in the throng, friends, recognizing them, waved a greeting.

Decatur, drinking in the scene with eyes too long accustomed only to the sea and strange angles drawn on oiled paper, was like a child.

Several times his gaze wandered to a seat opposite, and each time he was rather embarrassed to find its occupant, a picturesque blonde woman in a dazzling black gown, returning his gaze. Nor did she drop her eyes when he met them. On the contrary, her half-parted lips curved in a slight smile and her shoulder, gleaming in the light, moved perceptibly.

He turned away quickly and devoted his attentions to the scene before him. The Secretary of the Navy appeared presently and the audience arose. The program was simple and it was but a few minutes until the graduates, marching up as their names were called, received their diplomas, Gridley, along with the others.

Decatur gave no further thought to the woman opposite, excepting vaguely to feel that she was looking at him.

"Either she thinks she knows me, or she's damned nervy." He dismissed her from his mind.

But the woman was not to pass from his life so easily.

WILLIAMS OIL-O-MATIC HEATING

QUALITY

Real quality is built in OIL-O-MATIC. It doesn't just happen—it costs money to put it there.

The value of a purchase is based on what it does for you, not on the sales price.

When you consider the many things OIL-O-MATIC does for every member of your family, the price is no longer a factor—it is a real opportunity for the purchaser to economize.

Cheap articles at a low price are incapable of standing up under the test of real service.

OIL-O-MATIC burns cheap Fuel Oil, which contains far greater heat units than do Distillate or Kerosene. It is the safest Fuel in the World.

The dividends paid by OIL-O-MATIC are far more valuable than MERE MONEY, they add to the comfort, health and good cheer of your family and household.

The per day cost is far more vital than the first cost. Every day you put off placing your order for an OIL-O-MATIC you are cheating yourself and family, and you are paying the cost of doing without.

HAVE FORMS FOR BIG BUTTER POOL

NEW COOPERATIVE ORGANIZATION PLANS TO HANDLE 70,000,000 POUNDS OF BUTTER ANNUALLY

Madison, Wis., Nov. 22—Contract forms for the pooling of Wisconsin butter under the plan recently outlined by the Wisconsin Cooperative Creamery association, have been completed and will be distributed within a few days, it was announced by officials here today.

The butter pool will be one of the largest ever undertaken in the state, it is said by association officials. It is estimated that probably seventy million pounds of butter will be pooled annually. A campaign for pooling will be carried on by the association in an effort to market the largest part of the state's butter production.

The contract forms were drawn up by Assistant Attorney General Alvin Reis, who is legal advisor to the state marketing department.

Recently representatives of more than a score of creameries which are members of the state association met here and adopted plans for the cooperative pool. It was decided that the product will be marketed on the basis of equality grades arrived at by association officials. A full-time manager probably will be employed to manage the pool, it is said.

It is logical that we should ask the prospective buyer to gauge the worth of the Studebaker Special-Six by the measure of its sales success.

Why mention the distinctive motor or any other feature of this unusual car when the American public itself has established the greatest of all selling arguments in its favor by buying it?

Automobile license figures for every state in the Union continue to tell their own uncolored stories of Studebaker popularity.

EXTRA DELEGATES UNDER LEGAL BAN

REPUBLICAN NATIONAL COMMITTEE HAS AUTHORIZED INCREASED REPRESENTATION BUT STATUTE INTERFERES

Madison, Wis., Nov. 22—Wisconsin may not be permitted to select two additional delegates to the Republican National Convention at the party primary next spring, although it has been reported that the Republican National committee has voted to give the state six delegates instead of four, it was stated by officials today.

No Legal Provision

It was learned that the attorney general has expressed the opinion informally that under the present provisions of the primary law, the number of delegates cannot be increased. The law, it is said, provides for selection of four national delegates and until amended, no additional representatives can be selected.

Representatives of the secretary of state's department have conferred with the legal department as to procedure in the matter. The state department as yet has not been officially notified of the increase of delegates to the national convention but it was deemed advisable to investigate the procedure so that county officials can be advised as to preparing ballots.

Will Ask Formal Ruling

It was stated by officials that it would be illegal for primary voters to vote for six delegates when the ballot calls for only four and that ballots containing six names would be thrown out. Under the state law, the secretary of state cannot order that six delegates be voted for. The legal department probably will be called upon to give a formal ruling on the question as soon as official advice of the increase in the Wisconsin delegation is received.

It has been suggested to officials that a state party convention may be held to choose the additional delegates.

Offer $2,500 in Prizes at State Cheese Meeting

Madison, Wis.—Nearly 400 prizes aggregating $2,500 are offered as premiums at the annual gathering of Wisconsin cheesemakers in Milwaukee, Jan. 9, 10, and 11, according to J. L Sammis, of the Wisconsin dairy school, secretary of the association.

"Preparations are well under way for the annual gathering," says secretary Sammis. The prize list for cheese is the largest ever offered. It is 60 per cent larger than the premium list of last year. Special prizes for county and postoffice addresses are offered. The largest display of cheese factory machinery, equipment and supplies, that has ever been held in Wisconsin will make up a special feature of the cheesemakers' program.

More than 1,000 Badger cheesemakers are expected to attend the conference. Special rates will ve offered on all railroads.

At My Age—62

My Youth Cream keeps this baby skin

By Edna allace Hopper

Thousands upon thousands of women have asked me to tell what cold cream I employ. They see me with a girl's complexion at the age of 62. It is even softer, even rosier than 40 years ago.

A French Creation

French experts perfected this cream for me many years ago. It contains both lemon and strawberry. Also all the best that science knows to soften, whiten, smooth and feed the skin.

Neither I nor my friends have ever found a cream to compare with this The expert makers tell me it is the greatest cream produced. So I have arranged to have them make the identical cream for you. It is called Edna Wallace Hopper's Youth Cream. All druggists and toilet counters now supply it at 50c per jar.

They also supply my Facial Youth—my famous liquid cleanser. Also my White Youth Clay—the last word in facial clay. Also my Hair Youth, to which I owe my heavy, lustrous hair. My Beauty Book comes with each.

Go try my Youth Cream. Learn how it excels all others. Then I think you will want all the beauty helps which have done so much for me. Edna Wallace Hopper. Business address, Waukesha, Wis.

Note: Miss Hopper is now appearing twice daily in the Pantages Theatres of the Pacific coast and western states.—Advertisement.

SATURDAY
THE DAY OF DAYS

Well, it's all over but the shouting—or practically so. At 7 o'clock Saturday night The Daily Tribune's $4,000 subscription campaign, the greatest of its kind ever put on in this section, will come to a close.

Scores of candidates today are roaring down the home stretch in a final burst of speed, which is more exciting than the finish of a big political capaign or an automobile racing classic.

Excitement among candidates is at fever heat. They are so closely bunched that every subscription turned in by them will have to be counted to ascertain the winners. The ballot box, with lock, is receiving a speedy stream of remittances.

Announcement of the winners will be made Saturday evening in the campaign headquarters at the earliest possible moment after the count has been completed by the judges.

Here are a few final instructions to candidates as issued by the campaign manager. It is highly important for every candidate to read them. They are as follows:

No payments will be accepted with a blank stub or stubs, the names to be filled in later. Every report and stub must be plainly filled out with subscriber's name and address.

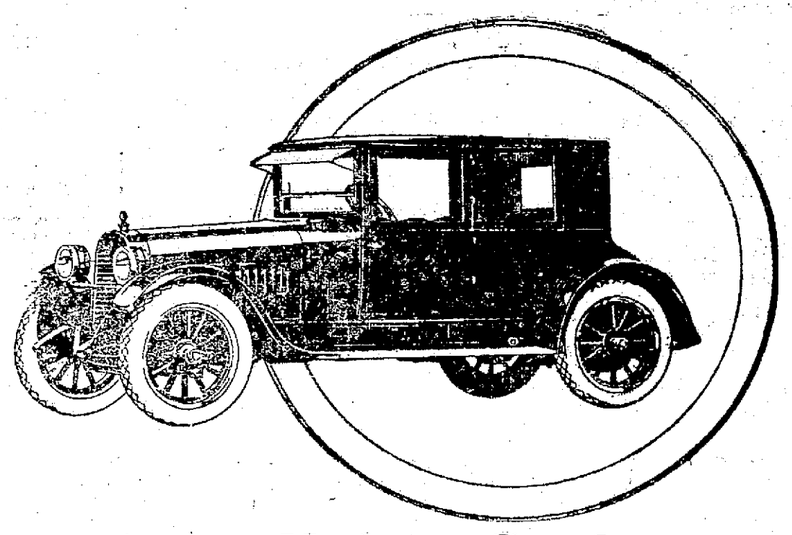
NO MONEY REFUNDED. There will be no money refunded after the votes have been issued. This rule will be strictly enforced for the mutual protection of the many candidates and The Daily Tribune.

CERTIFIED CHECKS. No personal checks will be accepted in payment for subscriptions unless certified by the bank against which checks are drawn. Remittances must be in cash, money orders, certified checks, or drafts.

CAMPAIGN CLOSES AT SEVEN. In spite of all the warnings that have been given, there are sure to be some candidates who will delay, but we again warn those that the campaign will be declared closed promptly at the stroke of 7 o'clock, and no one will be allowed to deposit votes in the ballot box after that hour, excepting those who are in the office who will, of course, be waited upon.

OUTSIDE CANDIDATES. Those who have not already mailed in their final reports should take no chances with the mails up to this time. The only safe way now is to bring in your subscriptions and remittances and stay for the fun.

SECOND PAYMENTS. All second payments or extension payments must be marked as such on the pink report blanks, also put down the amount of the first payment, so that proper number of votes may be given.



$1520 Hudson Coach

THOUSANDS OF EXTRA VOTES

In addition to the regular number of votes allowed on each subscription payment, according to the vote schedule, candidates will be given 150,000 extra votes for each club of five new subscriptions; and 75,000 extra votes will be allowed for every club of five old subscriptions, turned in on or before 7 o'clock p. m., Saturday, November 24, the closing day of the race.

The official judges will be authorized to issue extra vote ballots for each five subscriptions found in the ballot box Saturday night.

The closing rules and full instructions of the campaign were published in Tuesday's issoe of The Daily Tribune. Be sure to get a copy and read each one carefully.

THE STORY SO FAR

Having completed plans for a system of mines for the defense of the Panama Canal, Captain Richard Decatur, U. S. N., prepares to leave the isthmus with the Atlantic fleet. That night, enemy agents, directed by Louis Hisston, enter the home of Governor Wainwright, start a fire and try to steal the plans. Decatur forces one of them to drop the plans into the flames. The men escape, one of them injured. Decatur sails on the following morning under instructions from Governor Wainwright to report the affair to the navy intelligence. Arriving in Washington, he goes immediately to Admiral Meade, supposed chief of the intelligence. Meade introduces a man in civilian garments, a Mr. Collins, who is the actual head of the bureau. To him Decatur makes his report and leaves under detailed instructions.

HOME

Dismissing all thought of naval affairs from his mind, Decatur hastened from the administration building to meet Admiral Nevins. They had planned carefully for the surprise, so instead of sending for his car, Decatur signalled a taxi. Like a pair of scheming youngsters, they determined to dismiss the cab before reaching home in order to attract as little attention as possible on their arrival.

They reached the veranda without being seen and presently the door was opened by solemn old Joe, his immaculate livery scarce blacker than his skin. The old retainer fell back a pace and his face burst into a radiant grin.

"Lawd bless us!" he exclaimed. "Nobody expected you all. Whyn't yo' send some word, Mista' Dick, so's Ah could have some o' youah apple pie all ready?"

Decatur and Nevins laughed in subdued tones, the former signalling for quiet.

"Tell my wife that there's a fierce looking stranger down here who says he won't go away without seeing her," directed Decatur.

"But don't tell my wife I'm here, or I'll have your eyes blacker than they are," cautioned the admiral.

As Joe ascended the spiral stairway, Decatur stood in the center of the room and feasted his eyes on familiar things. Nevins quietly left the room and went to the veranda.

Presently Ruth descended the stairs. She was clearly disturbed by the message Joe had conveyed to her. Then, seeing Decatur from her position on the landing, she ran forward.

"Dick," she cried, as he clasped her to him.

She clung to him sobbing and he kissed her again and again, gently fondling the dark head which rested on his shoulder. Holding her at arm's length directly, Decatur towered over her frowning:

"Why—what are you crying for?" he asked sternly.

"Be-because I'm so happy," she replied, smiling through the tears.

They were interrupted by laughing voices from above. Without warning, a little form shot down the curving balustrade and came to a painful halt against the heavy metal base. There was another laugh from above and a second figure hurtled down, colliding with the first in a melody of laughter.

The boy was first to glimpse his father. With a glad shout he ran into the outstretched arms that awaited him. In a twinkling, he was followed by Jill. Questions and replies mingled with high pitched, childish laughter, as they entered into the spirit of the reunion. As they were seated on the divan, Decatur holding Ruth close to him, while the children sat on his knees, Mrs. Nevins came down. She grasped the situation at a glance and her aristocratic countenance was wreathed in smiles as she came forward.

"But where is that husband of mine?" she asked.

"Didn't he send you a telegram?" asked Decatur, affecting surprise to a nicety.

"The fleet was ordered out this morning and he had to sail."

Mrs. Nevins sobered and an expression of sadness extinguished the glad light in her eyes.

"I counted on him being here for Gridley's graduation," she said.

During the byplay, Admiral Nevins had stepped silently in through the open French window. Decatur alone saw him, but gave no sign. Approaching his wife from behind, Nevins quietly covered her eyes with his hands. The surprise was complete. On the instant, Jack and Jill set up a chorus of welcome scarcely less enthusiastic than that with which they had greeted their father. Presently they were gathered about, Decatur with his arm encircling Ruth, the grim faced old admiral shamelessly holding his wife's hand.

They talked of the sea and the navy, the men recounting their experiences since last they had been home. Inevitably, the conversation came back to the Annapolis graduation, where young Gridley would become a man, in the Nevins sense of the word, which meant that he would follow the sea beneath the flag.

Their plans were carried out according to schedule. Graduation day found them at Annapolis, watching the parade, awaiting the unbroken lines of white clad young stalwarts, straining their eyes for one in particular. As the head of the line came to a halt and the command passed on back, formations were broken and slim, supple-muscled youths ran in all directions, each seeking loved ones. Gridley Nevins, bronze and powerful, burst from a crowd and ran towards them. He halted at a distance of a dozen paces and stiffened, bringing his hand to the regulation salute. Admiral Nevins and Decatur replied, then broke into smiles as the boy came forward.

"We'll, son you look like a sailor," said the admiral. "Its isn't in you to be anything else."

"There isn't any inclination for anything else, Dad," was the reply.

There was pride in his mother's eye as she held the lad in her arms, but it was mingled with pain. She was all mother just then, with the conflicting emotions that have set problems for mothers to solve since time began. Yet, with brave smile, she patted her son on his broad shoulder and the proud light in her eyes was heightened.

As they stood chatting Senor Carlos Mendizabel, Argentine ambassador at Washington, accompanied by his daughter, Dolores, approached their group. No introductions were necessary. Mendizabel and Nevins were old friends. The women were familiar socially. It was noticeable that Gridley quickly took a position beside Dolores, oblivious of the smiles which passed from one to the other among their elders.

Beyond, in the parade grounds a squadron was swinging through its impressive maneuvers. A navy band was playing in the distance. Groups of white clad midshipmen, mingling with the darker uniforms of the service and the gowns of women, presented a scene so colorful that it caught and held the roving eye. Bugles sounded and from all directions men came running. They fell into line and presently the long columns began to move towards Graduation Hall.

Decatur and Ruth sat together beside Admiral and Mrs. Nevins. Senor Mendizabel and his daughter occupied chairs slightly to their left and in the rear. The children, Jack and Jill, stood half amused, partly awed, by the splendor of the scene before them. Here and there in the throng, friends, recognizing them, waved a greeting.

Decatur, drinking in the scene with eyes too long accustomed only to the sea and strange angles drawn on oiled paper, was like a child.

Several times his gaze wandered to a seat opposite, and each time he was rather embarrassed to find its occupant, a picturesque blonde woman in a dazzling black gown, returning his gaze. Nor did she drop her eyes when he met them. On the contrary, her half-parted lips curved in a slight smile and her shoulder, gleaming in the light, moved perceptibly.

He turned away quickly and devoted his attentions to the scene before him. The Secretary of the Navy appeared presently and the audience arose. The program was simple and it was but a few minutes until the graduates, marching up as their names were called, received their diplomas, Gridley, along with the others.

Decatur gave no further thought to the woman opposite, excepting vaguely to feel that she was looking at him.

"Either she thinks she knows me, or she's damned nervy." He dismissed her from his mind.

But the woman was not to pass from his life so easily.

THE OLD HOME TOWN — BY STANLEY

WILLIAMS OIL-O-MATIC HEATING

QUALITY

Real quality is built in OIL-O-MATIC. It doesn't just happen—it costs money to put it there.

The value of a purchase is based on what it does for you, not on the sales price.

When you consider the many things OIL-O-MATIC does for every member of your family, the price is no longer a factor—it is a real opportunity for the purchaser to economize.

Cheap articles at a low price are incapable of standing up under the test of real service.

OIL-O-MATIC burns cheap Fuel Oil, which contains far greater heat units than do Distillate or Kerosene. It is the safest Fuel in the World.

The dividends paid by OIL-O-MATIC are far more valuable than MERE MONEY, they add to the comfort, health and good cheer of your family and household.

The per day cost is far more vital than the first cost. Every day you put off placing your order for an OIL-O-MATIC you are cheating yourself and family, and you are paying the cost of doing without.

BADGER-MAROON TO SETTLE SCORE

MANY STARS OF LAST YEAR'S TEAMS WHICH FOUGHT 0-0 TIE WILL BE ENTERED IN FRAY SATURDAY

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 22—Old scores are going to play a larger part than in any other big ten game this season when Coach Stagg's Maroons meet the Badgers in the final game of the season here Saturday. Outside of being the final contest for both teams, each aggregation has a comparatively large roster of men who will be graduated next June and who, as a result, will be playing their last time in intercollegiate circles

The two teams last year played a 0-0 tie in what was one of the most bitter and hard fought games of the year Most of the men who played in both teams then will be facing each other when the whistle calls the squads together this week

Five Finish at Chicago

On the Maroon eleven, Ralph King, veteran center, John Thomas, Willis Zorn, Capt Pyott and Lloyd Rohrke, guard will be playing their last contest for Chicago.

Despite the fact that both Wisconsin and Chicago came through last week's combat without serious injuries, the Badgers, although they suffered defeat, are considered on the Maroon campus as having obtained a tremendous psychological advantage. Chicago expected a harder game with Ohio and the team spirit is on a rebound from the deaths that followed the Illinois game, Coach Stagg has even warned against overconfidence

Dickson May Play

The Chicago line-up in the Wisconsin game probably will be the most complete of the season. Dickson, star end, who has been out with a dislocated knee since the Purdue contest a month ago, will be in position to start, if required, although it is doubtful if Stagg will use him and take a chance on another dislocation. Harry Thomas, who cleared his scholastic barriers two hours of the campaign remain, can again be in the ranks

Beloit Coach Fears Old Man Overconfidence

Beloit—Old Man Psychology will be present at Hancock field here Saturday, when Ripon and Beloit meet in the closing encounter of the year to both [illegible] conference teams

Licked a plenty during the season, Ripon gridders will enter the [illegible] Beloit [illegible] ies. may be [illegible] to taking things easy

Coach Mills fears an upset and his work this week is not to teach his squad more football but to make his gridders fighting mad. As a consequence, the Beloit team is getting lots of raw meat in the form of scrimmage.

Champions Both

champion, two-year-old racing marvel, and Gene Sarazen, golf champion, in whose honor the horse was named. The two champs posed at the Laurel (Md.) track. Don't be misled by the jockey clothes on Gene. He didn't ride the horse.

South American Satisfied With Treatment Here

Buenos Aires—Luis Angel Firpo, South American champion, in an interview with the United Press, denied statements attributed to him that he was given a short count in his fight with Jack Dempsey, that he had been treated unfairly by the referee and that the officials at the ringside had restrained his seconds from making a protest on a foul.

"These statements were made by Horacio Lavelle, my adviser and chief second and I am not responsible for them," Firpo said. Under the same conditions I would have acted just as Dempsey did.

The big Argentine said he thought at first that he had been given only the count of eight on the last knockdown but after he had seen the picture of the contest he knew that he was down for the count of ten.

Extends Salutations

Firpo asked the United Press to extend his salutations to William Muldoon, chairman of the boxing commission, Tex Rickard, the sport writers and all his American friends.

"[illegible]," he said, "to beware of the distortion of statements made by me and the publication of unauthorized statements not made by me."

Firpo repeated that he was anxious for a return bout with Dempsey because he felt he would do better the next time and would be a better fighter with more experience.

Lavelle, who acted as Firpo's trainer and adviser, continued to complain about the treatment Firpo received before and during his fight with Dempsey

"Hecklers Employed"

"Dempsey paid six hecklers to bother Firpo around his training camp," Lavelle said

Dempsey, he said, had a private dressing room to get ready for the bout, while Firpo had to dress with the preliminary fighters Dempsey had three yards of bandage on his hands and the referee sustained him until the rule book was shown to him

Dempsey, he also complained, was given a count of eighteen when he was knocked out of the ring in the first round.

Disciples of Walton Called to Meet at Fond du Lac

Fond du Lac, Wis.—A call has been sent out by J. B McCready, secretary protém, Fond du Lac, to all fishermen in the state to convene in this city Dec. 7 for the purpose of organizing the Wisconsin division of the Izaak Walton League of America

For several months chapter organizations of the league have been in the process of organization in many of the larger cities of Wisconsin, and the effort to be made Dec. 7 here is to correlate all of these into a parent or state division. At the state meeting, it is probable, according to Mr. McCready, that other cities will be induced to organize local chapters

Beloit-Ripon Is Big Attraction This Week End

Milwaukee, Wis. Nov. 22.—This week end will see the finish of collegiate and normal football in the state, with the excetpion of the final game for Marquette University, which is to be played Thanksgiving day against the University of Vermont at Milwaukee.

The University of Wisconsin will be at Chicago in the final game of the institution's schedule, while in the state, Beloit will meet Ripon at Beloit and Lawrenec will meet Carroll at Waukesha. Campion college will be out of the state, playing Columbia college at Dubuque, and Whitewater normal meets Eau Claire at Whitewater.

Beloit Undefeated

Chief interest in the state centers in the Beloit-Ripon game with the dope favoring Tom Mills' undefeated Beloit team to win the state championship. Mills has taken his outfit through the season without a defeat, although the majority of the games have been won with nothing to go on. Last Saturday Beloit defeated Cornell 7 to 6 and in the game with Knox college won by a one point margin 5 and 6.

The Ripon team under the direction of Guy Sundt has not been so fortunate but has been pointed for Mills' team, and may upset the dope. A win for the Ripon team would scramble the championship to a considerable etxent.

Lawrence Should Cop

Lawrence college against Carroll at Waukesha should develop some good football, with the Lawrence team favored to win.

The Whitewater-Eau Claire game will not change the standing of the Normal school championshipin any way except so far as the standings of the teams engaged is concerned

Oshkosh is at the top with an undefeated record, the result of a season's campaign by what is declared to be the best team ever developed at that institution.

Howe School Team Defeats Lowell School 32-12 Score

Before a large crowd of students from the respective schools, ably led by cheer leaders, the Howe school seventh grade team rode rough shod over their heavier but less experienced opponents from the Lowell seventh grade and won out by a score of 32-12 in a game played Wednesday afternoon on the Lincoln high school gridiron.

Captain Fritz Panter of the Howe school was the oustanding star, carrying the ball for several long gains and showing uncanny ability to place the ball in the hands of his men on forward pass plays. Searles and Gaulke, two diminutive stars, also performed well for the Howe school while Bethke was the best bet for the Lowell school Coaches of the teams deserve much credit for their development of team work as displayed. The officiating was terrible.

EXTRA DELEGATES UNDER LEGAL BAN

REPUBLICAN NATIONAL COMMITTEE HAS AUTHORIZED INCREASED REPRESENTATION BUT STATUTE INTERFERES

Madison, Wis., Nov. 22—Wisconsin may not be permitted to select two additional delegates to the Republican National Convention at the party primary next spring, although it has been reported that the Republican National committee has voted to give the state six delegates instead of four, it was stated by officials today.

No Legal Provision

It was learned that the attorney general has expressed the opinion informally that under the present provisions of the primary law, the number of delegates cannot be increased. The law, it is said, provides for selection of four national delegates, and until amended, no additional representatives can be selected.

Representatives of the secretary of state's department have conferred with the legal department as to procedure in the matter. The state department as yet has not been officially notified of the increase of delegates to the national convention but it was deemed advisable to investigate the procedure so that county officials can be advised as to preparing ballots.

Will Ask Formal Ruling

It was stated by officials that it would be illegal for primary voters to vote for six delegates when the ballot calls for only four and that ballots containing six names would be thrown out. Under the state law, the secretary of state cannot order that six delegates be voted for. The legal department probably will be called upon to give a formal ruling on the question as soon as official advice of the increase in the Wisconsin delegation is received.

It has been suggested to officials that a state party convention may be held to choose the additional delegates.

Offer $2,500 in Prizes at State Cheese Meeting

Madison, Wis.—Nearly 400 prizes aggregating $2,500 are offered as premiums at the annual gathering of Wisconsin cheesemakers in Milwaukee, Jan. 9, 10, and 11, according to J. L Sammis, of the Wisconsin dairy school, secretary of the association.

"Preparations are well under way for the annual gathering," says secretary Sammis. The prize list for cheese is the largest ever offered. It is 60 per cent larger than the premium list of last year. Special prizes for county and postoffice addresses are offered. The largest display of cheese factory machinery, equipment and supplies, that has ever been held in Wisconsin will make up a special feature of the cheesemakers' program.

More than 1,000 Badger cheesemakers are expected to attend the conference. Special rates will ve offered on all railroads.

At My Age—62

My Youth Cream keeps this baby skin

By Edna allace Hopper

Thousands upon thousands of women have asked me to tell what cold cream I employ. They see me with a girl's complexion at the age of 62. It is even softer, even rosier than 40 years ago.

A French Creation

French experts perfected this cream for me many years ago. It contains both lemon and strawberry. Also all the best that science knows to soften, whiten, smooth and feed the skin.

Neither I nor my friends have ever found a cream to compare with this The expert makers tell me it is the greatest cream produced. So I have arranged to have them make the identical cream for you. It is called Edna Wallace Hopper's Youth Cream. All druggists and toilet counters now supply it at 50c per jar.

They also supply my Facial Youth—my famous liquid cleanser. Also my White Youth Clay—the last word in facial clay. Also my Hair Youth, to which I owe my heavy, lustrous hair. My Beauty Book comes with each.

Go try my Youth Cream. Learn how it excels all others. Then I think you will want all the beauty helps which have done so much for me. Edna Wallace Hopper. Business address, Waukesha, Wis.

Note: Miss Hopper is now appearing twice daily in the Pantages Theatres of the Pacific coast and western states.—Advertisement.

SATURDAY
THE DAY OF DAYS

Well, it's all over but the shouting—or practically so. At 7 o'clock Saturday night The Daily Tribune's $4,000 subscription campaign, the greatest of its kind ever put on in this section, will come to a close.

Scores of candidates today are roaring down the home stretch in a final burst of speed, which is more exciting than the finish of a big political capaign or an automobile racing classic.

Excitement among candidates is at fever heat. They are so closely bunched that every subscription turned in by them will have to be counted to ascertain the winners. The ballot box, with lock, is receiving a speedy stream of remittances.

Announcement of the winners will be made Saturday evening in the campaign headquarters at the earliest possible moment after the count has been completed by the judges.

Here are a few final instructions to candidates as issued by the campaign manager. It is highly important for every candidate to read them. They are as follows:

No payments will be accepted with a blank stub or stubs, the names to be filled in later. Every report and stub must be plainly filled out with subscriber's name and address.

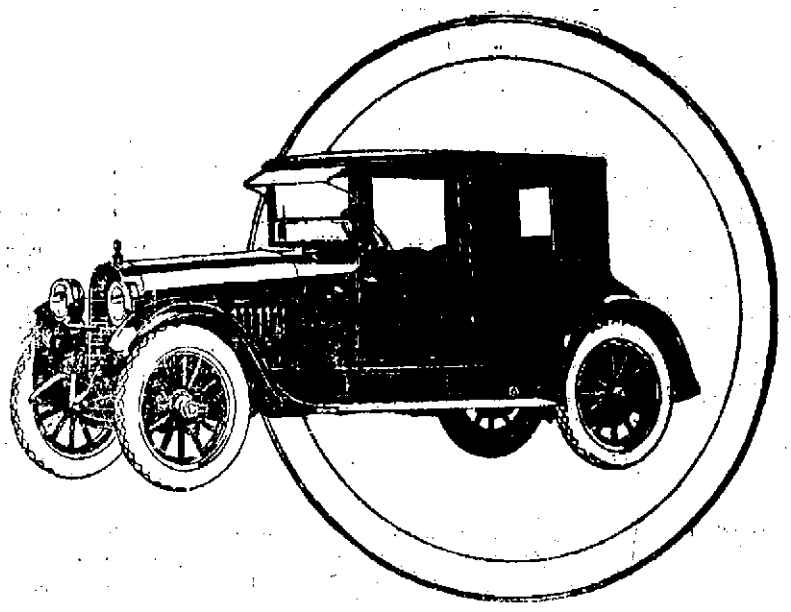
NO MONEY REFUNDED. There will be no money refunded after the votes have been issued. This rule will be strictly enforced for the mutual protection of the many candidates and The Daily Tribune.

CERTIFIED CHECKS. No personal checks will be accepted in payment for subscriptions unless certified by the bank against which checks are drawn. Remittances must be in cash, money orders, certified checks, or drafts.

CAMPAIGN CLOSES AT SEVEN. In spite of all the warnings that have been given, there are sure to be some candidates who will delay, but we again warn those that the campaign will be declared closed promptly at the stroke of 7 o'clock, and no one will be allowed to deposit votes in the ballot box after that hour, excepting those who are in the office who will, of course, be waited upon.

OUTSIDE CANDIDATES. Those who have not already mailed in their final reports should take no chances with the mails up to this time. The only safe way now is to bring in your subscriptions and remittances and stay for the fun.

SECOND PAYMENTS. All second payments or extension payments must be marked as such on the pink report blanks, also put down the amount of the first payment, so that proper number of votes may be given.



$1520 Hudson Coach

THOUSANDS OF EXTRA VOTES

In addition to the regular number of votes allowed on each subscription payment, according to the vote schedule, candidates will be given 150,000 extra votes for each club of five new subscriptions; and 75,000 extra votes will be allowed for every club of five old subscriptions, turned in on or before 7 o'clock p. m., Saturday, November 24, the closing day of the race.

The official judges will be authorized to issue extra vote ballots for each five subscriptions found in the ballot box Saturday night.

The closing rules and full instructions of the campaign were published in Tuesday's issue of The Daily Tribune. Be sure to get a copy and read each one carefully.

BADGER-MAROON TO SETTLE SCORE

MANY STARS OF LAST YEAR'S TEAMS WHICH FOUGHT 0-0 TIE WILL BE ENTERED IN FRAY SATURDAY

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 22—Old scores are going to play a larger part than in any other big ten game this season when Coach Stagg's Maroons meet the Badgers in the final game of the season here Saturday. Outside of being the final contest for both teams, each aggregation has a comparatively large roster of men who will be graduated next June and who, as a result, will be playing their last time in intercollegiate circles.

The two teams last year played a 0-0 tie in what was one of the most bitter and hard fought games of the year. Most of the men who played on both teams then will be facing each other when the whistle calls the squads together this week.

Five Finish at Chicago

On the Maroon eleven, Ralph King, veteran center, John Thomas, Willis Zorn, Capt. Pyott and Lloyd Rohrke, guard will be playing their last contest for Chicago.

Despite the fact that both Wisconsin and Chicago came through last week's combat without serious injuries, the Badgers, although they suffered defeat, are considered on the Maroon campus as having obtained a tremendous psychological advantage. Chicago expected a harder game with Ohio and the team spirit is on a re-bound from the deaths that followed the Illinois game, Coach Stagg has even warned against overconfidence.

Dickson May Play

The Chicago line-up in the Wisconsin game probably will be the most complete of the season. Dickson, star end, who has been out with a dislocated knee since the Purdue contest a month ago, will be in position to start, if required, although it is doubtful if Stagg will use him and take a chance on another dislocation. Harry Thomas, who cleared his scholastic barriers two hours of the campaign remain, can again be in the ranks.

Beloit Coach Fears Old Man Overconfidence

Beloit—Old Man Psychology will be present at Hancock field here Saturday, when Ripon and Beloit meet in the closing encounter of the year for both midwest conference teams.

Licked a plenty during the season Ripon gridders will enter the game wild-eyed and desperate, pronounced to Beloit, with a clean sweep of victories, may be lured by overconfidence to taking things easy.

Coach Mills fears an upset and his work this week is not to teach his squad more football but to make his gridders fighting mad. As a consequence, the Beloit team is getting lots of raw meat in the form of scrimmage.

Champions Both

champion, two-year-old racing marvel, and Gene Sarazen, golf champion, in whose honor the horse was named. The two champs posed at the Laurel (Md.) track. Don't be misled by the jockey clothes on Gene. He didn't ride the horse.

South American Satisfied With Treatment Here

Buenos Aires—Luis Angel Firpo, South American champion, in an interview with the United Press, denied statements attributed to him that he was given a short count in his fight with Jack Dempsey, that he had been treated unfairly by the referee, and that the officials at the ringside had restrained his seconds from making a protest on a foul.

"These statements were made by Horacio Lavelle, my adviser and chief second and I am not responsible for them," Firpo said. Under the same conditions I would have acted just as Dempsey did.

The big Argentine said he thought at first that he had been given only the count of eight on the last knockdown but after he had seen the picture of the contest he knew that he was down for the count of ten.

Extends Salutations

Firpo asked the United Press to extend his salutations to William Muldoon, chairman of the boxing commission, Tex Rickard, the sport writers and all his American friends.

"[illegible]," he said, "to beware of the distortion of statements made by me and the publication of unauthorized statements not made by me."

Firpo repeated that he was anxious for a return bout with Dempsey because he felt he would do better the next time and would be a better fighter with more experience.
